Using the computer system in Bolyai College

A short summary of the full Hungarian version of the Regulations and some useful information

This paper is for your information only, it is a summary of the 'Számítógéphasználati Szabályzat' (SzSz, Regulations of using the computer system of the Bolyai College). In any question the SzSz, the Network Regulations of ELTE and the Hungarian law are authoritative.

1.) Members, guests and employees of the College can use the computers of the College free of charge for unlimited time, using a private account (there may be some services which can be used even without one).

2.) You can ask the system administrator for a private account, with which you can use the computers here in the College or remotely from the ELTE intranet (e.g. using SSH).

3.) To obtain a private account you are required to provide us with a valid, regularly checked e-mail address. The system administrators will contact you using this address if needed.

4.) You have to accept the 'Regulations of using the computer system of the Bolyai College' prior having your own account. You have to confirm this with your signature. If you do not follow these regulations, you are fully and financially responsible for any negative consequences.

5.) You are required to obey also the Netiquette, the Network Regulations of ELTE, any other respective regulations and the Law.

6.) Your private account is for you only. You are not allowed to share it with others.

7.) A private 'home'-directory belongs to each account. Your private home directory is capable to store your data. However, the disk space usage is limited in it.

8.) You can use any other public directory ('scratch directories') beside your home directory for temporary files. Please note that these files may be read by other users in default; the files not used for a prolonged period are regularly deleted by the system administrator.

9.) The system administrator never inspects the content of your files in your home directory, so you are responsible for the legality of their contents.

10.) You have 1 year to save your files after leaving the College. Then your account and all your data left on the computers of the College will be deleted. You may ask for a longer period to keep your account active.

11.) You can use the printer of the College with printing credits bought in advance. Please ask the system administrator for further details.

12.) You must not use any network connectors in the computer rooms! It is also forbidden to disconnect, modify or change any hardware setup anywhere in the College.

13.) The use of the network connectors in the guest rooms is independent from using the computers in the computer room, so you can and have to request these separately.

14.) If you have any problems or questions you can ask the system administrator, in e-mail to the rgazd@bolyai.elte.hu address, or in person. (The name and other contact informations of the system administrator is available at the secretary or can be found in the computer rooms.)
